PASTOR'S NOTES

This has been a great week of Bible School. We've had a well planned and well presented program for our children. Amy Moore and Becca Lawing have been our Directors and they know how to get things accomplished. They have been assisted by a strong faculty and many of our teenagers have served as assistants.

It's been my joy to see children excited about being in the Bible School program. They have come each morning with smiles and eagerness to begin again. And each day they are exposed to the Gospel message. Life lessons are learned and experienced during this week.

For children to be here means that parents and grandparents have made this week a priority. I thank those parents for taking seriously the charge of exposing their children to opportunities to learn more of God and His plan for our lives.

Our church makes children one of our priorities. This week is one of the ways we meet our calling to pass the faith on to the next generation.

50 People Every Christian Should Know

By Warren W. Wiersbe

"Our spiritual struggles are not new and stories of those who have gone before can help lead the way to our own victories." Here are 50 short biographies of people who have made church history and certainly led inspiring lives. Most are preachers, but the first biography is of Katherine von Born, the wife of Martin Luther. The last of the 50 is William Culbertson, who served as president of Moody Bible Institute. Some of the persons in between are: Jonathan Edwards, Fanny Crosby, Charles H. Spurgeon, Dwight L. Moody, Henry Drumond, Amy Carmichael and Oswald Chambers.

For anyone interested in more information about any of the 50 people, there are references listed under "Further Reading."
