PASTOR'S NOTES

It is good that the pace of life slows some in the summer months. Our bodies, minds, and souls need a time to withdraw and rest. In the midst of these days, ministries continue in the life of our church. The opportunities to be church do not lessen in the summer season.

Our pattern is that giving to our church's mission budget declines in the summer. People are away on vacation and our routines are different. There is also the factor of extra expenses in the summer with camps and activities for children as well as vacations for the family.

We have fallen behind in our giving a little more than usual this year. Instead of being behind around a week and a half at the end of June, we are already over two weeks behind in our giving to the budget. We usually make up the summer shortage in the fall months leading to December. If we continue to fall behind, we may not be able to complete the year properly funding our goals.

I believe we can step up the challenges before us.

1. Some of us need to catch up on our planned giving. These may have fallen behind due to other commitments. This is a time to place our giving to our church in proper priority.

2. Some of us can give extra. We have been blessed with more than enough. We can share more out of our abundance.
3. Some of us can reorder our budgets. We've been negligent in the ways of faith. Now is a good time to trust God with our financial resources.

Good things are happening in and through our church. Let us be bound together to provide the resources to enable our church to be the effective witness God has called us to be. DBS
